Placement methods

The primary way a story’s place is decided is basic continuity. If a story either directly references or continues from another, it’s placed accordingly. Context clues like a stated time of year and the like are also considered. In the case that there’s no major relations to pull from, release date is used.

What counts as “canon” to the classic timeline is subjective, but I generally kept it to media that either has a clear story, aligns with already-established Classic lore or is tied to it in some form or fashion, or is canonized in a major source (For example, the 2011 web comics being canonized by the World Of Angry Birds Official Guide). If a singular event is represented across multiple pieces of media, it will only be counted as one entry (The Angry Birds Cinematic Trailer and Poached Eggs are counted as the same, Wreck The Halls Short and Wreck The Halls animation, Sakura Ninja IDW comic and Sakura Ninja web game, and so on). these rules are malleable, and subject to be bent or even broken when seen fit.

In the case of the Friends Tournaments, they are judged on a case-by case basis, with only Tournaments from before 2016 being considered for the timeline. Angry Birds Star Wars falls under a technicality where it’s technically canon to Space, but is so disconnected with everything else that it doesn’t fit cleanly with the rest of the timeline. For this reason, it’s sectioned off into it’s own miniature timeline reserved for when it becomes relevant to Space.

For events that aren’t specific pieces of media, what piece of media they are mentioned in will be citated in blue.

This story seems to be a backstory for Chef Pig's desire to eat the Eggs and become King, with his rivalry with Foreman Pig not being developed yet
In virtually every appearance of King Pig outside of this episode, other Pigs are able to identify King Pig without his crown, with King Pig even taking it off or replacing it with other headwear on some occasions. This could be due to either the episode taking place very early in Smooth Cheeks' reign, or him taking precautions after this episode to prevent a similar incident
Red and Girl Bird first meet
Girl Bird still refers to Red as her friend, meaning this book happens before their romantic relationship from Hogs & Kisses begins
Red is depicted as very young and naive in the story, and generally acts more childish. This could be the lifestyle Red's character descriptions talk about him wanting to return too after he begins guarding the Eggs

Year 1-2 (2009-2010)

Red Discovers The Eggs

Fantasy Version of Piggy Island that seems to have similar rules and story to the original timeline, But takes place in a different continuity.

The dialogue suggests this story to be one of if not the first time The Blues are left to guard The Eggs by themselves

According to Toons Tales, it was Chef Pig's idea to disguise a pig as a bird. He later recycles this exact plot to placate King Pig in Mystery Of The Green Bird

The Flock find a green feather, presumably belonging to Hal, who they've yet to meet

Chuck and The Blues find a massive stash of food including sardine cans, presumably the ones they later use to bribe Mighty Eagle

From later stories such as Eating Out, we know Matilda's cooking abilities have improved dramatically after this episode. Up to this point, the birds have been foraging fruit, with the only cooking seen being done by Bomb in the 2011 Christmas comic. According to Bomb's best birthday, Matilda cooks the cake for Bomb's birthday, with that story showing three flashbacks to previous birthdays Bomb has had, meaning Matilda began getting better at cooking by early 2012 at the earliest

This story is a direct sequel to both Mystery Of The Green Bird and The Green Rookie

This comic is the start of King Pig's desire to fly, leading directly into Danger Above

The Minions in this story are unfamiliar with hats in this story, likely meaning it happens before King Pig's forces employ them in mass

Hal is met and joins the Flock

Terence frees and joins the Flock

The Blues don't know what seeds are until this story

Birds and Pigs' conflict ends after Wizpig is defeated

The text blurb on the back of the Magazine says that King Pig has moved on from Eggs to Treasure, meaning this takes place after Epic

First known interaction between The Flock and Mighty Eagle

Chef Pig establishes a garden of his own in order to feed King Pig

Chuck gets his nunchucks in this story

This story details the beginning of Terence's fascination with being Santa Clause

King Pig's dialogue implies that he hasn't been to Desert Island yet at this point. He and The Blues also don't seem very familiar with each other

According to Angry Birds Magazine Issue 11, Chuck knows what Kites are before meeting Mighty Eagle. This story is also directly mentioned by Chronicler Pig in the book version of Year Of The Dragon

Professor Pig first invents the fan on Piggy Island. The Flock also don't know what kites are in this story

This story is a direct explanation of where Red acquires the hat and scarf he's seen with in Season's Greedings promotional material. The scarf Matilda begins knitting at the end of the story is the same color as Red's scarf, and the hat with a pompom she wants to make matches the description of Red's hat from Season's Greedings

The story Angry Bird shows that Red's birthday is in November. Foreman Pig is also unsure if he can build the Trojan Bird, implying this story takes place before Trojan Eagle, where he builds a similar structure

Red proclaims in the story that he's "Never been afraid" of anything in his life. If we take this literally, than this would mean this story has to take place before Red is scared by a Ghost Pig in the Trick Or Treat intro cutscene

During a food surplus caused by King Pig becoming sick, Egg Tokens are established as a currency in Pig City, along with professions. While it's unclear if Egg Tokens remained, later stories imply that the profession system and currency survive in some form past this story

Piggy Island Heroes: It's Raining Pigs
Garden In Gloom

The Pigs still have their makeshift garden outside of the city walls from Gone To Seed

The pigs begin using soda as a propulsion device

According to Chef Pig, he's only used grass and mud to cook before this story

Year 3 (2011)

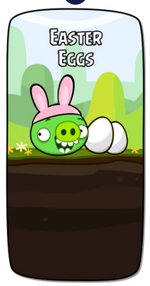
Girl Bird briefly returns, now in a romantic relationship with Red

The episode's setting, Candy Floss Fields, has clouds that can be used as blocks. These cloud blocks are exported and used in later episodes, namely Easter Eggs

This book is the only time Girl Bird interacts with the other Flock members outside of Red, likely placing it around the same point in time as Hogs & Kisses. Additionally, Girl Bird is seen in a garden full of watermelons, presumably Matilda's garden

The Pigs are still using wax candles on mining helmets instead of the actual headlamps they later use

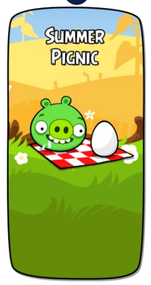
Angry Birds Bing shorts



A PIG FROM THE STARS

King Pig's heightened interest in the interstellar may have inspired the rocket launches in the Golden Fields we see in Summer Pignic.

This episode depicts the beginning of the Pig's rocket tests that they later move to the Golden Fields, with the Toons TV describing the rockets as Corporal Pig's "latest weapon of mass destruction"



Chuck's desire to one-up Bomb and be recognized by the Flock later serves as the catalyst for the plot of the Moon Festival Comic

The Angry Birds and their conflict with the Piggy Kingdom is noticed by humans, who begin creating merchandise and even games based on the birds and their adventures. It's implied that The Flock receive royalties of some kind for use of their likeness at some point after the brand is established

ROVIO

Hockey Bird leaves his flock in the arctic to pursue a career in hockey. He was eventually found and employed by the 2012 hockey world championship organization

Bubbles joins the Flock

Birds directly mention the events of Mooncake Festival and the Ham'O'Ween comic.

King Pig Resides in the Winter Palace, A building previously made by Kings of the past and destroyed. It's unknown if he had it rebuilt, or if it's an unrelated castle of the same name.

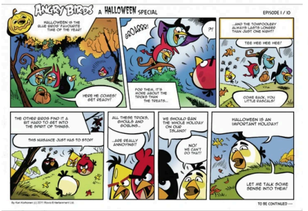
According to the Sticker Book, this episode takes place during Red's birthday.

The Trick Or Treat Castle is destroyed



Blues are in the same costumes as the Ham'O'Ween Short Movie

Year 4 (2012)

Ham-Fu, the puppet in the play, may have been an actual King in the past, or at least an adaption of a real king. King Pig dawns his crown in the episode card. Interestingly, The Chuck Puppet in the comic version of Year Of The Dragon is redesigned to look closer to the young lad from the Moon Festival comic, implying that, if he was a real King, he may have been one of if not the first after the fall of the Emperor dynasty.

Chuck still being notably scared of Terence, combined with his seeming unfamiliarity with Terence's supernatural abilities, implies this episode to be earlier in the two's relationship.

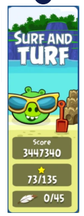
While Mount Fuji is visible in the background, this episode still takes place on Piggy Island. Both the Sticker Book and the Official Guide reference this episode as happening on Piggy Island. Later in the IDW Christmas Special, Chuck claims he didn't know it was possible to leave the island before that point. Given how Piggy Island is known to move, it's more likely that Mount Fuji is visible due to the island passing by Japan. Mount Fuji is even visible from some coasts in Japan in real life

This story seems to happen before Red creates his rubber farm from Best Nest Test, as he has Matilda search the beach for something to replace the Slingshot's rubber band

Red is still unable to swim in this comic

Professor Pig invents the ability to record sounds, which he later uses in the film camera he invents

This episode is all about Red learning how to swim, which he is able to do by the events of Piglantis



Stella joins the Flock

The Blues are seen with a pink feather, presumably Stella's

Foreman Pig is still in the Mechanic role

Foreman Pig still has his mechanic hat from the Bad Piggies comic

Frankenswine is seen as a Zig on later pages, implying he died during the Magazine

Frankenswine's first chronological appearance.

The Pigs find and begin cooking the Jade Egg, Matilda's power-granting pendant

Halloween 2012 Tournament

CHUCK AND STELLA'S RESCUE MISSION

The story involves Foreman Pig attempting to chop down a tree to make a plane for King Pig, presumably for the airshow in If Pigs Could Fly

Foreman Pig is unaware that The Blues are three separate birds until this story

The pigs are unfamiliar with mirrors in this story

The house Bubbles hides out in is the same house from Haunted Hogs

Bubbles recounts the story of Frankenswine

Frankenswine creates more Zigs, which backfires. The Flock invade to retrieve their eggs, and King Pig is forced to flee.

BUBBLING OVER

While not able to speak in full sentences, Bubbles is able to say words now rather than cheeps

Chuck states that this story is the first time he's experienced being blown up by Bomb

This story is the first time Stella sees Bubbles use his ability

2 Days later

According to Worlds Collide part 2, Angry Birds Dream Blast is a dream had by Classic Red

First appearance of Mechanic Pig

IF PIGS COULD FLY

The Flock describe Movie concepts of games in a way that implies they haven't experienced them yet. This includes Space, Go, and Transformers

Red states that he's never seen arms and legs before in the first issue. Additionally, Bubbles is now able to speak in full sentences, even without the influence of the Eggspark

Winter 2012 Tournament

THE ICE CASTLE

The Ice Castle described in this story is very likely the Harbin City Ice Castle, the same castle the Pigs fortify outside of during Winter Wonderham, meaning that Spott's crew were eventually successful in finding the Ice Castle, leading into Winter Wonderham

According to Chuck, this story is the first time he's left Piggy Island, not even knowing it was possible up to this point

Upon returning from Sonic's world, Chuck remarks on how weird it is that "there's other birds out there", implying that he doesn't know of the existence of birds outside of Piggy Island by this point

Andy Reid, the coach who signed the Flock onto the Philadelphia Eagles, was fired at the end of the 2012 football season after losing to the giants 42–7, on December 31

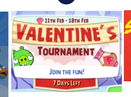
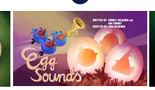
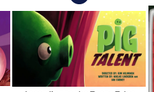
The birds know what kites are, meaning this takes place after Where The Wind Blows

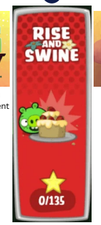
Valentine's 2013 Tournament

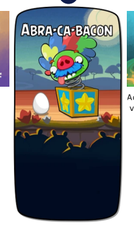


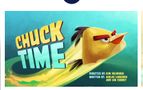




According to the Toons Tales version of the story, the Pig Talent Contest is a yearly event







According to the Toons Tales book version of this story, this episode is set during Summer

The montage at the beginning shows that Red has been guarding the Eggs for at least three years. The 2015 Annual also shows that Stella is part of the Flock by this point

The Dog toy and anchor from Dogzilla can be briefly seen during the training montage

According to the Bad Piggies Book Of Wisdom, it's illegal for a pig to weigh more than King Pig, being a revised version of the size law in the Pigora. El Porkador is possibly able to achieve his size without violating this rule using the Gasolizer from Seven-League Pigs, as that story establishes that device to only effect size, not weight. El Porkador even scrunches up like a deflated balloon when he collides with Terence

King Pig is seen fishing at the end of the episode, a skill he denounced until the ending of The Pirate King

The Castle King Pig inhabits is the same castle that Frankenswine used to bring the Zigs to life for the first time in the Night Of The Living Zigs Comic. The Zigs he encounters are likely the Zigs from the Halloween 2013 Tournament who followed him from his castle

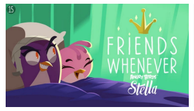
This story happens on April 27

Dahlia uses the backdrop from Willow Takes The Stage to fool Gale

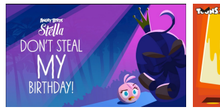
Willow paints a painting for the Summer Solstice, which happened on June 21 of 2014

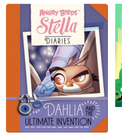


This story takes place on Luca's birthday

This story is where Gale first gets the idea to dig in the volcano for the Golden Egg. The story also takes place the day before Luca's birthday

Gale says she's been practicing with Luca for "weeks" before the story takes place. Dahlia also creates the Luca Lux for Luca's upcoming birthday. The events of Poppy's Perfect Prank and Dahlia and the ultimate invention are also directly referenced





Gale attempts to build a wall from the rocks she was mining in Pig Power. Dahlia also has awards for five annual awards for spectacular inventions, with the sixth event happening this year, implying Stella's friends have been living on Golden Island for over five years

Gale comes into possession of the last known Golden Egg remaining on Golden Island

Gale is defeated and Stella's Flock launch the final known Golden Egg into the ocean

Stella returns to Piggy Island and continues to live with The Flock (Return to page 7)

This tournament takes place in the realm contained in the house from Haunted Hogs

Stella and Chuck stop Badburger, sink his ship, free Brian, and out Foreman Pig as a Piggy Kingdom Spy

According to Badburger in Angry Birds Magazine, his raft appears to collect victims every Halloween Night. After the story transitions to the next day, there's a sequence of King Pig in the bath, which he does in November. This means that the story takes place from October 31st to November 1st.

Split Timeline

Pigs launch an all-out offensive. Plot goes unresolved after Egg Defender

Silver is "rescued" by the flock

Silver begins constructing new Slingshots for The Flock, with varying levels of success

Given how different Chuck's reaction to The Slingshot being broken is to his reaction from The Broken Slingshot, as well as this Slingshot later being destroyed permanently in Spying Game with seemingly no long-standing consequences, this story likely takes place after Silver begins constructing multiple Slingshots

The Slingshot that gets destroyed is the same one from the end of Fix It!

The birds own multiple Slingshots by this point, likely built by Silver. King Pig is also seen bathing, meaning this story takes place in November

After running afoul with the pigs on an unspecified Island, Melody arrives on Piggy Island and joins Red's Flock

Pigs begin building on mass and running in an attempt to win though attrition

Following Melody's arrival on Piggy Island, and possibly spurned on by her popularity, a large amount of birds begin migrating to Piggy Island, reinvigorating the island's bird population and resulting in the first bird-populated village the island has seen since the abandonment of the Old Nesting Burrows

Blast From The Past Page 4

Gale goes missing. The rest of Stella's Flock leave Golden Island, with Gale's army leaving soon after. Eventually, Handsome Pig is the only one remaining on the island

Stella's Golden Goodbye Page 8

The Angry Birds 2 app is released. The characters inside the app are sentient, and go on their own adventures inside the app

The birds have far more than three eggs, meaning that the larger bird population has already formed on Piggy Island

Marlon, a member of the bird village, gets transported to the past of the Movie dimension for the events of Angry Birds Mystery Island. The island he is transported to is destroyed in a volcanic eruption, and his fate is left unknown

1 Week Later

A large storm, brought about by an interdimensional wormhole, causes havoc upon Piggy Island for a week straight. Gordon, an old bird, is struck by lightning from this storm, frying his brain with knowledge from other dimensions

The in-app Bird characters escape into the real world, and are replaced

Ruby leaves the Crown Mountains and meets Red, joining up with The Flock permanently

This episode ends with all traces of facial hair being censored from the Pig King bloodline

After fishing up the Golden Egg and destroying Golden Island's ecosystem for a second time, Handsome Pig is talked into burying the Golden Egg by Stella

The Bad Egg hatches into M, later named Mia

While the cannon intended as King Pig's birthday gift from Survival Of The Eggest specifically was broken, This episode takes place during a celebration about King Pig, presumably his birthday, and prominently features a cannon used to deport Minions, when every other instance of pig deportation in the series being done by the catapult
